Terms Cash in Advance:

For One Copy for Six Months or less	$1 00
For One Copy for One Year	1 50

THE WEEKLY SUN will renew its best efforts as a first-class News and Literary Journal. Every improvement of modern journalism—by which it is distinguished—will be maintained, and such attention be given to its several departments as will insure their continued interest, and whatever may be necessary to render them more complete will not be lost sight of.

Through no other medium can families and individuals in the towns and villages and rural districts of the country be so well supplied with proper literature, and a full knowledge of the world's whole news, from week to week.

MAKE UP CLUBS.

While the WEEKLY SUN is afforded at the low rate of $1 50 per annum to single subscribers, the CLUB rates are still lower, carrying the price down as low as one dollar per year where twenty-five copies or more are taken at one post office at a time, viz:

MODERN CHURCH-GOING.

Coming in couples,
Smilieg so sweetly,
Up the long aisle
Tripping so neatly.

Envying bonnets—
Envying laces;
Nodding at neighbros,
Peering in faces.

Whispering softly,
Heeding no sermon;
What they go there for,
Hard to determine.

On all around them
Gazing benignly;
Wholly unconscious,
Singing divinely.

Prosy discoursing
Don't suit their whims,
Plain they assemble
Just for the hims.

THE BEGGAR-GIRL OF PARIS.

During the "Reign of Terror" in France there were many deeds of daring performed even by women and many examples of affection exhibited. The very streets of Paris were deluged with human blood; but near the guilotine it ran in rushing torrents. One dark morning an unusual number of aristocracy had been marched forth, and countless heads rolled from the block. A gasping multitude stood by, and with shouts rent the air as the aristocracy were thus butchered.

Among the assembled multitude that dreary morning, were two females. One of them was plainly clad, while a cloak was thrown around her, with which she kept her features nearly concealed. But a close observation would betray the fact that she had been weeping. Her eyes were inflamed and red, and she gazed long and eagerly on the platform, while a shock of the glittering knife severed the head from the body of some one who had been unfortunate enough to fall under the ban of the leaders. The face of the woman was very beautiful, and she was young—certainly not more than sixteen or eighteen years of age.

The other female was quite different in character. Her face was fair, but there was a brazen expression about it. She was clad in rags, and as each head fell she would dance, and in various ways express her delight, and then exclaim: "There falls another aristocrat who refused me charity when I humbly sued him!"

Each expression of the kind would create a laugh from those who heard her.

But any thoughtful person must wonder how one so young could have been so depraved. The first female watched the creature for a few moments and then pressing her hand upon the shoulder of the wretch and whispered:

'Would you like to become rich at once?'

The female in rags turned about with a look of surprise, burst into a loud laugh and then replied:

'Of course I would.'

'Follow me, and you shall be.'

'Enough, lead on.'

It was with considerable difficulty that the females extricated themselves from the crowd; but they did so at length, and then the first female asked of the other.

'What shall I call you.'

'Oh! I'm called the beggar-girl Maria.'

'You live by begging?'

'Yes; but what's your name and what do you want?'

'My name is Maria, the same as your own.'

'Are you an aristocrat?'

'It does not matter. If you know where we can find a room lead me to it, and you shall have gold.'

The pauper led the way into a narrow, filthy street, and then down into a cellar, and into a dark filthy room. The other female could not but feel a sickening sensation creep over her, but she recovered herself. After contemplating for a time the appartment, and what it contained, she asked: 'Are you well known in Paris?'

'Yes. Everybody knows Maria, the beggar-girl.'

'Are you known to Robespierre? If so I want to make a bargain with you.'

'I am. What do you wish?'

'You see my clothing is better than your own, and I wish to exchange with you. I want you to consent to remain here and not show yourself at all for a short time, or until I come to you again. As a recompense for aiding me I will give you a thousand more. As security for my return take this ring.'

The lady drew a diamond ring from her finger, and gave it to the beggar-girl. Then handed a purse containing gold. The girl appeared a little puzzled and then asked:

'Well what are you going to do with my dress?'

'I want to put it on and go where I first met you.'

'Oh, I understand now. You want to see the chopping go on, and you are afraid you will be taken for an aristocrat if you wear that dress. You want to represent me?'

'Yes I want to look as near like you as possible.'

'Well that won't be difficult. Your hair and eyes, and even your mouth is like mine. Your face is too white though. but you can alter that with a little dirt.'

They exchanged dresses, and soon the young rich and noble Maria de Nantes was clad in rags of Maria the beggar-girl of Paris. The history of Maria de Nantes was a sad one. Her father and two brothers had fallen victims to the remorseless fiends of the revolution and a third and last brother had been seized. But of his fate she was ignorant, although she expected it would be similar to that of her other relatives. He had been torn from her side but a few hours before. After the change had been made, the pauper looked at the stockingless and shoeless feet, and ankle of the lady and said:

'That will never do. Your feet are too white and delicate. Let me arrange matters.'

In a few moments Maria was repaired and in the filth and rags she merged into the street. She now took her course back towards the guillotine, and at length reached the square where the bloody work was still going on. Gradually she forced her way through the crowd and nearer she came to the scaffold. She even forced a laugh at several remarks she heard around, but those laughs sounded strangely. She now stood within a few feet of the platform, and swept it with her eyes, but her brother was not there. The cry was now raised:

'Here comes another batch.'

Her heart fluttered violently, and she felt a faintness come over her as she heard the tramp of the doomed men approaching. Her brother walked proudly and fearlessly forward, and ascended the very steps which led to the block. Up to this moment the strength of poor Maria had failed her, and she was unable to put her resolve into execution. But now a sister's love swelled up in her heart, and she recovered her strength. She sprang forward through the line of guards, and ran up the steps. Grasping her brother by the hand, she cried:

'What does this mean? It is only the aristocrats that are to die.'

'Away, woman,' exclaimed one of the executioners.

'No I will not away until you tell me why my brother is just bound.'

'Your brother?' was the echo.

'Well who are you?'

'I am Maria; don't you know me?'

'The Beggar-girl?'

'Ay.'

'But this is not your brother?'

'It is. Ask him—ask him.'

Young Antonie de Nantes had turned a scornful gaze upon the maiden. but a light passed across his face, as he murmured:

'Oh, my sister!'

'Is this your brother? asked Robespierre of the supposed beggar, advancing near her.

'It is.'

'I supposed him to be an aristocrat.'

'Then you are mistaken. He is my brother. Ask him.'

'Does Maria speak the truth?' asked Robespierre.

'She does,' was the brother's reply.

'And you are not De Nantes? Why did you not tell us of this before.'

'I attempted to speak but was silenced.'

'But you might have declared yourself.'

'You would not have believed me.'

'But your dress!'

'It belonged to an aristocrat. Perhaps to him for whom I was taken.'

Robespierre advanced close to young Nantes, and gazed earnestly into his face, then he approached Maria, and looked steadily into her eyes for a short time. It was a moment of trial for the poor girl. She trembled in spite of all her efforts to be calm. She almost felt that she was lost, when the human fiend whose words was law, turned and said:

'Release this man!'

The chains were instantly removed and Antonio de Nantes walked down from the scaffold, followed by his sister while shouts rent the air, for they supposed it was the commoner who had thus been saved.

The young man worked his way through the crowd as rapidly as possible, leading Maria. They scarcely escaped it before the poor girl fainted from the intensity of feelings. The brother scarcely knew what to do, but a hand was laid upon his arm, and a voice said:

'Bring her to my room again. She will be safe here.'

The brother conveyed her to the apartments of the pauper, and asked her:

'Have you seen this female before?'

'Yes I know all about it,' returned the pauper. 'She borrowed my clothes to save her lover. She has done it and I am glad.'

Before the noble sister returned to consciousness the brother had learned all. When she did so, they both sought secure quarters, after rewarding the Beggar-girl as had been promised.

'Do you think Robespierre was really deceived?' asked Maria de Nantes.

'I think not,' returned the brother.

'Then why did he order your release!'

'He saw your plan. He admired your courage. Could a fiend have done less?'

'Perhaps this was the case. But if so, it was a deed of mercy, and the only one that the man ever did.'

'You are right.'

Antonio de Nantes was not again arrested, and lived happily with that sis- who had so nobly perilled her own life to save him by representing 'The beggar girl of Paris.'

Since last October, fifty-three thousand emigrants, black and white, have passed through Memphis, of whom fifteen thousand were foreigners, principally from the neighborhood of Chicago, hunting homes in the Cotton States. The blacks are principally from Virginia.

The negro named Charles Cornish, alias Mason, who committed rape on Mrs. Eldridge Lombard, of Springfield, Mass., on Thursday, was arrested in South Wilbraham, last week. He was examined in the city Court, and committed for trial before the superior Court in May.

Navigation is now open on the Connecticut river, and steamboats run regularly.

ONE WEEK FROM MY DIARIE.

BY JOSH BILLINGS.

Monday—Had suckers for breakfast. Suckers and sassidges are the 2 luxurys ov life; the only luxury is easy boots.

Tuesday—Awoke with a splendid headake, caused by drinking too much water the evening previously and goin to bed at nine o'clock precisely.—Breakfasted on the butt end of a sassidge and felt like a dork.

Wednesday—Rekolected of asking a man in Misseory if beans was a sure krop in his parts. He said they wuz "az sertain as a revolver." Reflekted on the danger of carrying conceled weepins. Rekolekted agin ov bein in Nu Hampshire during a severe sno storm, and innocently enough remarked that I never see enything like it, and waz told by one ov the barroom boarders that it war't nothin; he heb seen it fall over a thousand feet.—"What?" sed I, "a thousand feet on the level?" "No," sed he, but a thousand feet from on hige." I reflected how easy it waz for sum folks to lie and tell the truth at the same time.

Thursday—Rekolekted once more ov bein on Red river, in Arkinsaw, and seein a large piece ov frame work by the side of the road; inquired ov a private citizen who was leadin a blind mul by 1 of his ears, what the frame work mought be. He sed it was "a big fidle, and took 3 yok ov oxen to draw the bow, and they had tu haw and gee tu change the tune." Reflected on that passage in the poet which sez "man is fearfully and wonderfully made;" and thort the remark might apply to fidles in Arkinsaw without spiling the remark.

Friday—Vizited my washwoman and blowed her up for sewing ruffles and tuckes on the bottom of my drawers. She was thunderstruck at first, but explained the mystery by saying she had sent me, by mistake a pair that belonged to——. I blushed like biled lobsters, and told her she must be more keerful about such things; I might have bin ruined for life.

Saturday—Write this diaree for the week from memry, and I am satisfied I've got a good memry. Reflekted upon the vanity of human wishes, reflekted how often I'd wished to be rich, and how seldom my wishes had bin gratified. Resolved in the future not to wish for ennything until I had it 3 weeks and see how I liked it.

THE HISTORY OF STEAM.

Here we give a condensed history of steam. About 280 years before Christ, Hiero, of Alexandria, formed a toy which exhibited some of the powers of steam, and was moved by its power. Six hundred years later, Anthemius, an architect, arranged several caldrons of watter, each covered with the wide bottom of a leather tube which rose to a narrow top, which pipes extended to the rafters of the adjoining building. A fire was kindled beneath the caldrons, and the house was shaken by the efforts of the steam ascending the tubes. This is the first notice of steam recorded. In 1543, Blasco D. Garoy tried a steamboat of 210 tons with tolerable success, at Barcelona, Spain.—It consisted of a caldron of boiling water, and a movable wheel on each side of the ship. It was laid aside as impracticable. A present, however, was made to Garoy.

In 1650 the first railroad was constructed at Newcastle on Tyne. The first idea of steam-engine in England was in the Marquis of Winchester's "History of Inventions," 1663. In 1710, Newcomen made the first steam engine. In 1718, patents were granted to Savery for the first application of the steam engine in England. 1764, James Watt made the first perfect steam engine in England.

In 1736, Jonathan Hulls set forth the idea of steam navigation. In 1778, Thomas Paine first proposed this application in America. In 1785, William Tymington made a voyage in one on the Forth and Clyde Canal.—In 1783, Ramsey propelled a boat by steam to New York. In 1783, John Fitch, of Philadelphia, navigated a boat by a steam engine on the Delaware. In 1802, Robert Fulton first began to apply his attention to steam.

THE NEW PROVERBIAL PHILOSOPHY.

Ask no woman her age. Never joke with a policeman. Do not play at chess with a widow. Never contradict a man who stutters. Be civil to all rich uncles and aunts. Your oldest hat, of course, for an evening party.—Always sit next the carver, if you can, at dinner. Keep your own secrets.—Tell no human being you dye your whiskers. Wind up your conduct, like your watch, once every day, examining minutely whether you are "fast" or "slow." Make friends with the steward on board a steamer; there's no knowing how soon you may be in his power. Write not one letter more than you can help; the man who keeps up a large correspondence is a martyr tied, not to the stake, but to the post.

The rush from San Francisco to the San Diego gold mines is unabated.—The stages that make the trip overland are crowded daily. The stages on Sunday carried about four hundred gold seekers. It is reported that the Chinamen have been driven out of the new mines, and several of them killed.—San Diego and other towns in the southern portion of the State are being rapidly depopulated.

"Now, 'sposen you was to be turned into an animal," said Jim, "what would you like to be, Bill?" "Oh, I'd be a lion," replied Bill, "because he's so strong." "Oh, no, don't be a lion, Bill," interrupted little Tom, who had some recent painful experience at school, "be a wasp, and then you can sting the school-master."

GOOD FOR THEM.

It is a good thing for a young man to be 'knocked about in the world,' though soft-hearted parents may not think so. All youths, or if not all, certainly nineteen-twentieths of the sum total, enter life with a surplusage of self-conceit. The sooner they are relieved of it the better. If, in measuring themselves with wiser and older men than themselves, they discover that it is unwarranted, and get rid of it gracefully, and of their own accord, well and good, if not it is desirable for their own sakes, that it is knocked out of them. A boy who is sent to a large school finds his level. His will may have been paramount at home, but school boys are democratic in their ideas, and if arrogant, he is sure to be thrashed into recognition of the golden rule. The world is a great public school, and it soon teaches a new pupil his proper place. If he has the attributes that belong to a leader, he will be installed in the position of leader. If not destined to greatness, the next best thing to which he can aspire is respectability; but 'no man can be truly great or truly respectable who is vain, pompous, and over-bearing.' By the time the novice has found his legitimate social status, be the same high or low, the probability is that the disagreeable traits of his character will be softened down or worn away. Most likely the process of abrasion will be rough, but when it is over, and he begins to see himself as others see him, and not as reflected in the mirror of self-conceit, he will be thankful that he has run the gauntlet, and arrived, through a rough road, at self-knowledge. Upon the whole, whatever, loving mothers may think to the contrary, it is a good thing for youths to be knocked about the world; it makes men of them.

YOUTHFUL SINS.

The late Dr. Spencer said that when he was a lad, his father gave him a little tree that had just been grafted.—One day, in his father's absence, he left the colt into the garden, and the young animal broke off the the graft. It was mended, however, on the following day, and continued to grow finely.—Years passed, and young Spencer became a man and minister. Some time after he became a pastor, he made a visit to the old homstead where he spent his boyhood. His little sapling had become a larger tree, and was loaded with apples. During the night after his arrival at the homestead, there was a violent thunder shower, and the wind blew fearfully. He rose early in the morning, and on going out found his tree lying prostrate upon the ground. The wind had twisted it off just where the colt broke it when it was a sapling. Probably the storm would not have broken it at all, if it had not been broken when it was small. It will usually be found that those who are grossly vicious in manhood, dropped a seed of vice in the morning of life; that the fallen youth who was religiously trained, and has become corrupt, broke off his connection with virtuous ways just where he did a very wicked thing in boyhood. Here is a fact to be pondered. The oldest man in the prison could not say that childhood and youth had no connection with his present condition. Perhaps he could point to the very day and hour when he decided his present character.

VERY LITTLE INTEREST IN THIS CASE.

Lawyers have a belief that when a witness begins to yawn and look indifferent, he is probably lying. A funny colloquy between a witness of this class and a counseler occurred a few weeks ago in a court held not very far West. The particular matter at issue was an account of several years' standing; defendant swore that he paid it in full, and to corroborate him, called this witness. The fellow mounted the stand, took the oath, gaped and testified that the money was paid. Then he was turned over to the plaintiff for cross-examination. Lawyer—You say you saw the money paid? Witness—(Gaping) I did. Lawyer—where was the plaintiff when defendant came? Witness—In the barn (a wide gape.) Lawyer—What month was it? Witness—(Without hesitation) February. Lawyer—What time of day? Witness—Bout 4 in the morning. Lawyer—Before light? Witness—Y-a-a-s, a little. Lawyer—Then, sir, how could you see the money paid? Witness—I—(gaping)—lit a match. Lawer—what was the plaintiff doing? Witness—Mowing. Lawyer—What?—Now, sir, just explain to this jury how a man can be mowing in his barn before daylight in the month of February. The witness saw that he had hopelessly involved himself in a quagmire of falsehood. The eyes of court, jury and lawyers were upon him, and he saw no way to extricate himself from his dilemma. But something had to be done; and so, with a nonchalant yawn, he drawled out the words: "Well, Squire, I don't know as I care much about this case anyway.—Packard's Monthly.

It is dangerous to be "highly spoken of" in Cincinnati. A baby was left at a rich man's door the other night, with a note saying: "Having heard you spoken very highly of, and also that you was extravagantly fond of puppies, I have brought you this treasure."

HOUSE AND FARM.

Brief and Seasonable Hints.—We have often heard farmers make the remark that they suffered inconvenience and loss, by forgetting to do many jobs at the right time, simply for the want of a reminder. For the convenience of such, and at a peculiar season just before the hurrying work of spring, when it is especially important to have everything in readiness, afid every hindrance out of the way, we make a few short suggessions, to serve as memoranda.

Implements. Examine ploughs, harrows, rakes, reapers, and all tools, and put them in repair.

See that there is a place for every thing, and put every thing in its place.

Paint all the wooden tools with crude petroleum, which will penetrate the pores and preserve them, at little cost. After some weeks they may have a coat of paint if desired.

Select tools, procure the best—they will partly compensate for the scarcity of labor. The highest priced are often the cheapest.

Buildings and Fences. Repair all hinges of sagging gates, and see that the latches are in perfect order. Many a latch is broken by not being self-astening, and many a gate banged to pieces in the wind for want of a fastening.

Nail all loose boards on fences and outbuildings.

Procure at once all the necessary materials where new fences are intended.

As soon as the weather will admit, re-set old fences whenever it is needed.

Whenever any new buildings are required, or additions or improvement to old ones, procure at once the necessary materials, so that it may not interfere with farm work.

Workshop. Every active and ingenuous farmer should have a good work shop, and set of tools for repairing implements on stormy or rainy days.—Provide a room especially for this purpose.

Seeds. See that there is a full supply of grass and clover seed, remembering that a good heavy seeding will give a heavy crop. Select seed corn and have it ready, and provide and set aside the necessary grain for sowing.

Animals. The best preparation of horses for the hard work of spring, is to feed them with perfect regularity and uniformity, and in moderate quantities, giving them a moderate amount of some kind of work daily. Clean, dry, well ventilated and comfortable stables are vitally important.

Attend to the comfort, cleanliness and regular supply of wholesome food for cattle, sheep and swine.

Neatness generally is the best economy. Prevent untidy accumulations of manure; avoid confusion in barns, sheds and out-houses.

Manure should be carefully attended to. If mixed with plenty of straw litter, pile it up in square heaps to decay. If with uncut cornstalks, several months may be necessary for it to rot in heaps before using. Unless very coarse or fibrous manure it may be drawn out before the ground thaws, and spread at once on sod intended to plough for corn. The rains will soak it into the soil, and it will be much more useful than if drawn out just before ploughing.

Farm Laborers should be secured or hired in good time. The best ones are commonly engaged first. One good one is worth more than two bad ones for labor, and will give the employer an infinitely less amount of annoyance. Pay good prices and secure the best. As a general rule, an employer will make more in planning his work well, and running it like a perfect machine, than by beating down a man in his wages.

Farm Accounts. Procure the necessary blank books for these accounts.—Map the farm and measure the fields. Note the labor expended in each, and its products. Keep a daily memorandum book, noting any mistakes or omissions, to be corrected at the proper dates another year.

The rain that falls on the roof of a barn will water the cattle kept inside.

Recipes.

To bleach a faded dress.—Wash it well in the suds, and boil it until the color seems to be gone, then wash and rinse, and dry in the sun. If not sufficiently white, repeat the boiling, adding a handful of chloride of lime, and a gill of vinegar to the water, instead of soap. Good prints and other articles of dress are frequently cast aside because they are faded; but they may again render good service by this mode of bleaching.

Preserved Orange Peel.—As oranges are used, throw the peelings into a jar of hot water, which should be poured off and renewed every few days, and when a sufficient quantity have been saved, boil them in enough water to cover them until soft, and to a pound of peel put a pound of white sugar, boil fifteen minutes.

Cream Cake.—One tablespoonful of syrup, a large tablespoonful of flour, one tablespoonful of butter; one cup of rich cream and one cup of milk, sweetened with sugar and seasoned with nutmeg to your taste. This for one pie; bake in crust.

Cottage Pudding.—One cup of butter, one and a half of sugar, one of sour cream, one teaspoonful of soda, four eggs, flour enough to mix a soft dough. Bake one hour. Sauce butter and sugar whipped light together; grate nutmeg over it.

Long Island Cake.—One pound sugar, one pound flour, half pound butter, one cup milk, one teaspoonful of saleratus, three eggs, nutmeg and rose-water to taste.

Sugar Cake.—Three cups of sugar, one of sour cream, one of butter, three eggs, one teaspoonful of saleratus, and flour enough to stiffen.

The Bedford Gazette.

Thursday Morning, April 7, 1870.

TARIFF BUNCOMBE.

The Bedford Inquirer discourses, week after week, on the tariff question, in the hope of making a little capital for its party. The dulness of its disquisitions is varied only by the striking inconsistencies which they present. In one breath the editor lauds his partisans in Congress for reducing the duties on tea and coffee so as to save $60,000,000 to the consumers. In the next he praises them for attempting to increase the duties on other articles so as to add $60,000,000, or more, per annum, to the burden of indirect taxation.—Tea and coffee are classed among the luxuries; iron, copper, cotton and woollen fabrics, salt, sugar, &c., are among the necessities. The would-be aristocrat of the Inquirer proposes to allow articles of luxury to be imported at a low rate of duty, but would impose a high tax on those importations which are necessary to the comfort and happiness of the great mass of the people. He would tax the iron and steel in the miner's pick and shovel, in the farmer's plough and spade and axe, in the mechanic's plane and saw and hammer, in the manufacturer's machinery; he would levy a duty on the flannels and cassimeres, calicos and muslins which clothe the people; he would extract the savor from the meat of the day laborer by taxing salt out of his reach; but as for Mr. Silkstocking's coffee and Mrs. Whitekid's tea, let them come in scot-free. In the face of all this, he claims that his party is the friend of the poor man! His impudence is as astounding as his inconsistencies are glaring.

In one of his articles, this wonderful political economist takes occasion to insult the Kemble Coal and Iron Company and the Coal operators of Broad Top, by intimating that they are mere pensioners upon the bounty of the Federal Government and that their profits consist only of the taxes wrung from the people by an exorbitant tariff. This is what he says:

"The removal of the duties which now foster our manufactures would, in a few months, stop the furnace at Riddlesburg, close the mining operations in Broad Top and consign us to the poverty and idleness of the free-trade era of years ago."

Now, this is simply false. Nature has so endowed the favored region of Broad Top that the fortunate capitalists who have invested, and who may hereafter invest, in the coal and iron business in that section, are, and will be for all time to come, entirely independent of the alms of the Federal Government. Furnaces will flourish here because the iron ore is the best in the world and the coal to smelt it is convenient. Coal operations will henceforward be remunerative because the furnaces will afford them a certain, uniform and continual market. The Inquirer in declaring that the success of the furnace at Riddlesburg depends soley on the contingency of a continuance of the present duty on iron, has dealt the material interests of Bedford county a severer blow than if it had said, in so many words, that the investment of capital in the iron business in this region is a precarious venture. It has, in effect, advised capitalists that the successful manufacturing of pig iron in Bedford county, depends altogether on the charity of the Federal Government. It will not do, therefore, for the Inquirer, in the face of this grave blunder (to call it by no harsher name) to charge the GAZETTE with "opposing the best interests of all our railroad, mining and manufacturing interests." The GAZETTE declares that the God of Nature intends this region to be the seat of prosperous iron works. The Inquirer denies that the natural advantages of our section are such as to ensure a fair return to the capitalist on his investment; it scorns "the Divinity that shapes our ends" and affects to believe that the profits of the Bedford county iron-master will only be the crumbs that fall from the Congressional table; it would have the world to believe that our iron men and coal-operators must be mendicants crawling at the feet of Congressmen and exposing their sores to be licked by the dogs of the lobby. The GAZETTE has a better opinion of the spirit and intelligence of the enterprising men who are engaged in developing the hidden wealth of our hills and valleys and a much higher appreciation of the intrinsic value of that dormant wealth soon to be vivified, tariff or no tariff. With this correct statement of the case, we are quite willing that a discriminating public shall decide which of us (in the interesting rhetoric of the Inquirer) opposes most "the best interests of all our railroad, mining and manufacturing interests."

Napoleon has conceded something to propriety and decency. He has exiled his imperial cousin, Prince Pierre, from France, and it is reported in Paris that the eminent slayer is about to embark for America. Out West he can indulge his little weakness almost with impunity, and with nought to make him afraid except Judge Lynch.

AN INFAMOUS FRAUD.

During the whole of the present session of the legislature, a contested-election case from the First Senatorial District of Philadelphia, known as the Diamond-Watt case, has dragged its slow length along. It has been proved by Mr. Diamond, the contestant, (who was the Democratic candidate) that the board of return judges refused to receive and count the returns from a number of precincts which gave him (Diamond) upwards of 400 majority. By this outrageous proceeding Watt, Republican, was given the certificate of election, and has been enabled to hold the seat, thus far, in defiance of the will of the people. In order to overcome the 400 majority for Diamond in the rejected precincts, witnesses have been brought before the committee at Harrisburg to swear that their residence was in Baltimore and New York at the time of the election and that they were hired to go to Philadelphia to vote in the names of residents of that city. On the testimony of these self-confessed scoundrels, Mr. Watt principally rests his case, and a great cry has been raised in consequence, by the Republican press, that the Democrats committed great frauds at the election of Philadelphia. But the Republican editors hallooed before they were out of the woods. The police were set upon the track of the knaves who were brought to Harrisburg as witnesses for Mr. Watt. They were ferreted out and found to be pickpockets and bawdy-house pimps, who deliberately prepared themselves for pay. Their testimony was contradicted by the very best men in Philadelphia, by W. V. McKern, editor of the Ledger, by Charles W. Brooke, Esq., Robert E. Randall, Esq., John I. Rogers, Esq., and other prominent citizens of the First Senatoral District. The scoundrels thus contradicted claimed to reside at certain places in New York and Baltimore and to be engaged in certain branches of business. The persons by whom they swore they were employed have since been examined on oath, and in every instance the alleged employer testified that he knew no such persons, and police detectives, having been put on the stand, have sworn that no such persons as Watt's witnesses reside, or ever resided, at the places they gave as their residence. It turns out, therefore, that this testimony of these self-convicted knaves, was manufactured out of the whole cloth to meet the necessities of Mr. Watt's case. But perjury alone would not keep the sitting Senator in his seat. The perpetration of the twin crime of forgery was necessary. The Republican Return Inspector of the Seventh Division of the Third Ward of Philadelphia, was put on the stand by Mr. Diamond, and sworn that the hourly returns of that Division, which was in his own handwriting, has been altered so as to add one hundred votes to Mr. Watt's number more than he received! In the face of the infamous swindle by which the return judges cheated Mr. Diamond out of 400 votes, in the face of the notorious perjury of the pimps and pickpockets brought to Harrisburg to swear for Watt, in the face of the forgery by which one hundred votes were given to Watt more than he received, the Repuplican papers, our near neighbor among them, have the hardihood to talk about "Democratic frauds." They should hide their face in shame.

THERE is an ancient aphorism that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. The Inquirer of last week maliciously seeks to injure the good name of Hon. A. H. Coffroth, our former represen ative in Congress, by insinuating that he appointed military and naval cadets for a consideration. Gen. Coffroth has publicly denied this charge, over his own signature, and in the absence of proof to the contrary his denial must stand as his vindication. But the Inquirer, whilst it malignantly attacks Gen. Coffroth, for having, (as it asserts) appointed cadets outside of his district, is dumb as an oyster in regard to the conduct of John Covode, who could not find a Republican youth in Fayette, Westmoreland and Indiana, fitted to be a cadet, but had to go to Philadelphia to appoint a son of the rich and radical Remak.—Will not the Inquirer give us a chapter on cadet-auctioneer Covode?

As the Inquirer appears to have a severe attack of the Tariff fever, we would recommend the editor to try a few of Allison's pills, the same to be washed down with Stevenson's bitters. These are Western preparations, recently put up by two Free Trade Republican members of Congress. They will prove an excellent febrifuge in the case of the Inquirer man. If these are too nauseous, there are various kinds of Anti-Tariff lozenges prepared by some fifty different Republican Congressmen which might effect a cure. Take a few, Bro. Lutz, and you will feel better.

A bill has been introduced in the Spanish Cortes providing for a draft for 40,000 fresh troops. It has created a lively sensation.

THE BLACK MILLENNIUM.

U. S. Grant, who was elected on the platform of the right of the people of the States to regulate and control the elective franchise for themselves, has just issued a proclamation declaring the Fifteenth Amendment, (by which all power to decide who shall and who shall not vote, is taken from the people) to be a part of the Constitution of the United States. This proclamation stamps the Chicago Platform of the Republican party, as a lie, a delusion, a snare, a deliberate and audacious swindle, and brands every Republican politician, every Republican stump-speaker, and every Republican newspaper, as guilty of the most outrageous trickery, deception and falsehood. For the Chicago Platform declares that in all the loyal States the people shall control the suffrage question for themselves, and the Republicans, stump-speakers and newspapers have always made it a point to deny that their party intended to force Negro Suffrage on the country by constitutional amendment.

The occasion will furnish the Republican party a double reason for gratulation. The white members of that organization may congratulate each other on the success of their scheme to defraud the people by manipulating and coercing legislatures. The black wing will hold its jubilee to rejoice its enfranchisement. Be it understood that we do not grudge the negro any of his newly acquired privileges. It is not his fault that the people have been swindled out of the right they have hitherto possessed to control and regulate the exercise of the elective franchise. He is entirely innocent and is not at all blameworthy for enthusing over his own enfranchisement at the expense of the loss of a right by the people in general.

But we do condemn, denounce, anathematise, the corrupt and designing demagogues, who, in order to use the negro at the ballot-box, have wrested from the people of the States the great right bequeathed to them by the founders of the Government and enjoyed by them unmolested until the present hour. Let them be anathema maranatha!

'Is there not some chosen curse,
Some hidden thunder in the stores of heaven,
Red with uncommon wrath, to blast the men
Who owe their greatness to their country's ruin!'

BUTLER, THE CADET AUCTIONEER.

Sixty-eight members of the House of Representives have declared, by their votes in Butler's case, that the appointment of a cadet for money by a member of Congress, is not a crime deserving of expulsion, provided he devotes a portion of his dishonest gain to the "cause of God and radical morality." They have repented of the momentary expression of honesty by which the saintly Whittemore was driven from Congress to the bosom of his sable constituents, and by their votes have shown their willingness to receive him with open arms. That he will return is as certain as it is that not one in twenty of the negro voters of his district will ever learn of his offense, or will appreciate it, if he do.

Not less than twelve of the sixty-eight members of Congress voting against Logan's resolution to expel R. R. Butler are from Pennsylvania.—Their names are Armstrong, Cake, Cessna, of this district, Covode, Dickey, Kelley, Morrell, Myers, Mercur, Negley, Phelps and Townsend. Hon. John B. Packer, with Messrs. Donley, O'Neill and Schofield voted with the democrats for expulsion.

Twelve out of sixty-eight are much more than Pennsylvania's fair share of the dishonor of keeping this cadet auctioneer in Congress. It is out of all proportion, but it indicates the standard of public honor which prevails among the radical politicians of this State. It is shameful that nearly one-fifth of the entire number of those who sustained this Tennessee trafficker in appointments should come from Pennsylvania.

For the first time in this disgraceful cadet business the old Westmoreland fox, John Covode, comes out of his covert, and votes squarely No on the expulsion of Butler. "A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind." Butler, according to the testimony of General Este, received one thousand dollars for his appointment Millward obtained a like sum for Covode's nomination of an Oriental named Remak.—When Covode's turn shall come up, he will want the votes and sympathy of Butler and his friends, and could, therefore, no longer afford to dodge.—If Butler had been expelled for his conduct, nothing could shield Covode from expulsion except Millward's thin sick-bed story that the Chairman got none of the money; and that would hardly go down among members of Congress by whom ex-Marshal Millward is almost as well known as Covode, himself. It was the danger to Covode that rallied so many members from Pennsylvania in behalf of Tennessee Butler. This was the appeal that made twelve of them vote against his summary expulsion. "Honest John" was in danger. He had appointed a cadet from the far East, because in all his district, among all the sons of his radical constituents, he could not find a youth of sufficient spirit and intelligence to send to West Point. There was danger that this pillar of righteousness would be thrown to the ground in the fall of Butler on account of the ignorance of his radical constituents, and this is the reason why such zeal was shown by the Pennsylvania members in behalf of the Tennessee cadet auctioneer. This it was which won the vote of Cessna, with all that nice sense of honor for which he is so distinguished. Nothing else could have induced the chivalrous Negley to vote in favor of Butler than love for Covode. Morrell could not afford to lose the counsel of a political economist of his knowledge and erudition, and this secured his vote. Dickey would have been rendered disconsolate by the expulsion of one in whose society he enjoys so many pleasant hours. Thus it was that the love with which John Covode has inspired his fellow radical members from Pennsylvania has been made to contribute to the safety of Butler of Tennessee. Covode may now consider his hide pretty safe. Twelve members from Pennsylvania have made a great sacrifice for him. They have declared by their votes in Congress that the sale of a cadetship is no crime, if a fair portion, only, of the money is spent for the good of the radical cause. Noble Twelve! Fortunate Covode in having so many admirers from Pennsylvania!

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, March 29.

The San Domingo treaty was again considered in the United States Senate in executive session, yesterday. The President sent a special message to the Senate in the announcing that he had obtained from Baez a thirty days extension of the time for the ratification of the treaty. It is thought that this news will increase the chances for indefinite postponement. Little of interest was transacted in the open session of the Senate. Mr. Drake endeavored to hurry up the consideration of the bill admitting Texas. The Radicals are very nervous about Connecticut, and, as the President refuses to proclaim the fifteenth amendment until Georgia and Texas are readmitted, an effort will be made to rush the bills through this week, in order to gain the negro vote in Connecticut next Monday.

In the House of representatives resolutions favoring the imposition of a ten per cent. tax on United States bonds, and declaring that the Bible should not be driven from the public schools were virtually defeated by the refusal of the House to second the previous question. The Tariff bill was debated in committee during the afternoon and evening sessions. Hon. S. S. Cox of New York, delivered a powerful argument against the fallacies of the pig-iron party.

WASHINGTON, March 30.

Texas was pushed through the United States Senate yesterday, the Radicals having suddenly taken the alarm about the negro vote in Connecticut, and the delay in the fifteenth amendment proclamation. The bill was sent to the House, where Butler made an ineffectual attempt to put it on its passage. It was referred to the Reconstruction Committee, which will probably report to-day. In the House, after a sparring between Generals Slocum and Logan upon the staff feature of the Army bill, the debate was resumed in committee upon the tariff bill, and Mr. Marshall, of Illinois, made an elaborate speech against the protection swindle. The Senate was in executive session for some hours on the San Domingo treaty.

WASHINGTON, March 31.

The President sent a message to Congress yesterday, announcing the promulgation of the ratification of the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution, and appending the certificate of the Secretary of State. The message which is an absurb bit of clip-clap, and quite uncalled for, characterized the ratification as a measure of grander importance than any of the kind from the foundation of the government, and called on Congress to do all in its power to encourage popular education throughout the country. The amendment thus declared to be part of the Constitution owes its existence to the pretended ratification by the States of New York, Indiana and Georgia, and the Southern States which have been under duress since the close of the war. The Radicals may howl with delight, but for all that they are conscious that the validity of the amendment is in doubt.

After a short open session yesterday the Senate doors were closed, and the consideration of the San Domingo treaty was resumed. Mr. Casserly, of California, spoke against the job, and Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, in favor of it. The House of Representatives received the bill admitting Texas to representation in Congress from the Reconstruction Committee, and passed it by a strict party vote. Mr. Lawrence (Rad.) announced that the passage of the bill was necessary in order to secure the immediate proclamation of the fifteenth amendment. The act was forwarded at once to the executive Mansion, and in less than two hours a messenger appeared with the President's message, announcing the desired proclamation. Mr. Wood arose and denied, emphatically, that New York had ratified the amendment. Mr. Niblack also pronounced the representation that Indiana had ratified the amendment to be a fraud. The Radicals attempted to refer the message to the Judiciary Committee, but the Democrats were determined to have it debated, and, showing a disposition to filibuster, it was finally agreed to lay it on the table for future action.—The House then went into committee upon the Tariff bill.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 1.

Texas got back into the Union yesterday, but for how long is uncertain. The instant she exhibits Democratic tendencies Congress will begin to talk of reconstructing her over again. Senators Flanigan and Hamilton were admitted in the Senate, and four representatives from the State in the House. Objection was made by Butler to Mr. Conner (Dem.), ostensibly because he was cruel to soldiers during the war and denounced certain acts of Congress in his campaign speeches. Butler wished to have the case referred to the Committee on Elections and have his accusations examined. Mr. Stevenson of Ohio, Mr. Orth of Indiana, and other Radicals denounced Butler's proposition that the House could go back two or three years prior to a member's election and inquire into his moral or military conduct, especially on the assumption of ex parte affidavits, as unprecedent and preposterous. Butler was badly beaten, there being only twenty-one votes in favor of his motion. After Mr. Conner had taken the oath, he rolled up his sleeves and gave the spoon connoisseur a handsome flaying. The House, in committee, resumed consideration of the Tariff bill, and Mr. Schenck closed the case for the Ways and Means Committee in a long speech. In the Senate, the admission of carpet-bag Ames was under discussion until the hour of adjournment, several Senators taking part. Ames will probably be admitted by a party vote to-day.

PERIODICALS.

The Educational Gazette is a first-class Family Journal, devoted to pure, high-toned literature. Its aim is to furnish in a popular and attractive style the latest results in scientific, educational and literary labors, and in these respects its present success is well deserved. The March number contains valuable articles by such writers as Prof. John S. Hart, Elihu Burritt, etc.; good stories, inculcating the best lessons, and much special matter in regard to National Education in our land not before published. C. H. Turner & Co., No 607 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, are the publishers, and they deserve thanks for the excellent reading they have provided for the home circle. Send for a specimen copy, and while you are writing the letter send the amount of your subscription, which is only one dollar, for you will be sure to do so after seeing it.

AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER.—This Magazine, edited by prominent gentlemen connected with the various evangelical denominations, and published by J. W. McIntyre, St Louis, at $1.50 per year. THE NURSERY. for April, is on our table. This excellent monthly for youngest readers is a perfect gem, and the April number will call forth joy and gladness from its many little readers. How any family, where there are little folks, can do without it is a mystery to us. Our little ones can hardly wait from one month to the other to receive it. They read it over and over and never seem tired of it. Subscription only $1.50 a year. Send for a specimen number, price 15 cts. Address John L. Shorey, 13 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

THE TECHNOLOGIST.—The second number of this journal has reached us and is fully up to the promises held out by the first. It contains a very fine full page engraving, on tinted paper, giving the details of the East River Bridge Caission. Other articles of great interest serve to render this number valuable, both to the practical man and to the general reader. Amongst them may be mentioned The Manufacture of Porcelain, Recent Improvements in Distillation, Street Railways, Ocean Lines of Telegraph, The Paris System of Drainage, Influence of Occupation on Health, The History of the Lucifer Match, Isometrical Projection, The Science of Little Things, &c., &. Those who desire to examine a copy of this journal should send twenty cents to the Industrial Publication Company, 176 Broadway, New York.

THE LITTLE CORPORAL FOR APRIL is received, full of life and vigor as usual; always fresh and bright and original. Let all the children have this delightful Juvenile Magazine. Only one dollar a year. Published by Alfred L. Sewell & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Another conspiracy against the Empire is bothering the Parisian police. Orders have been issued for the arrest of twenty persons, among them Mazzini, Felix Pyat, and Louis Blanc, who are not now in the country. The police have the family of Louis Noir under surveillance. Ledru Rollin, the agitator of twenty years ago, has returned to Paris after his long exile.

Assurances have been received in London, from Rome, that the Ecumenical Council, yielding to the representations of the European powers, will adjourn the discussion on Papal infallibility until the latter part of May. The Catholic laity of Switzerland are dissatisfied with the ultramontanism of their bishops in the Council.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Democratic County Committee, held in Bedford, on Monday, Feb. 14th, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Committee that a County Convention should be called for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of altering and revising the rules of the Democratic party of Bedford county governing nominations.

Resolved, That such Convention is hereby called to meet at the Court House, in Bedford, on TUESDAY EVENING, March 1, (Special Court) and that each election district shall be entitled to one delegate in said Convention.

In pursuance of said resolutions a Convention composed of prominent Democrats from a large majority of districts met at the Court House, in Bedford, and adopted the following:

Resolved, That the Rules of the Democratic party adopted in the year 1869, be suspended for the present and that a county convention to consist of one delegate from each election district be called to meet at the Court house in Bedford, on Tuesday evening of April court, for the purpose of determining the propriety of changing the rules at present governing the party.

Resolved, That the chairman of the Democratic County Committee is hereby instructed to give notice through the columns of the Bedford GAZETTE that an election will be held to elect delegates to said Convention, in the several districts of the county, on Saturday, the 23d day of April, 1870.

By authority of the above resolutions, a Democratic County Convention is called to assemble at the Court House, in Bedford, on Tuesday evening, April 26th (Court week), to consist of one delegate from each election district in the county, and the Vigilance Committees of the respective townships are required to hold an election in their said districts, for the election of one delegate, for the purpose aforesaid, on SATURDAY, APRIL 23d, 1870, between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

DEATH OF AN AGED TOLL-GATE KEEPER.—Mr. William Binkley receiver of tolls, on the East side of the Cove mountain, on the Chambersburg and Bedford Turnpike, died on Wednesday last, a week,—aged sixty years. Mr. B. had been receiver of tolls at the above gate for the last thirty-five years; and what is still more strange, he has not been, owing to ill health, in any domicile, other than his own, for a period of six years.—Fulton Democrat.

HEAD OF NAVIGATION.—A Bill recently passed the Legislature, authorizing the Pennsylvania Canal Company to abandon the canal from this place to Hollidaysburg, a distance of 39 miles. This may be good news for old Huntingdon, but it is certainly bad for our western neighbors. Huntingdon under this bill becomes the head of Navigation.—Monitor.

PLAYING HANGING.—Thursday last several young lads conceived the idea of a game of hanging and at once repaired to Mr. Benj. Graffius' yard to complete arrangements. A gallows was formed by placing sticks across the trellis of a grape arbor. Upon this platform a lad named Cunningham was placed, one end of a rope adjusted around his neck and the other end fastened to the cross-beam of the arbor. The strips upon which he was standing were then kicked from under his feet and he fell as far as the rope would allow and for an instant hung by the neck struggling for life. Fortunately the crosspiece to which the rope was attached, broke, or we would have to chronicle a sad death instead of this narrow escape. Young C's neck was quite blue and but a few more seconds would have caused death.—Monitor.

MERCERSBURG REVIEW.—The April number of this Review, just issued, contains only four articles, besides a series of short notices of new publications. The first article is an elaborate one from the pen of the Rev. Dr. C. P. Krauth, covering seventy-seven pages, on the New Testament Doctrine of the Lord's Supper, as confessed by the Evangelical Lutheran Church Thetically stated, with the Exegetical Argument. The second article is on Socialism and Social Science, by Rev. Prof. Theodore Appel, of Franklin and Marshall College. The third is from the Editor, on Religious Orders in the Church. The fourth from the of the Rev. Dr. E. E. Higbee, Professor in Theological Seminary at Mercersburg, Pa., treats of the Pericopes, or Selections of Gospels and Epistles for the Church year.

Published by the Reformed Church Publication Board, No 54, N. 6th St., Philadelphia, at $3 per year in advance.

AN ACT To incorporate the Blair and Bedford railroad company.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That David Watson, Essington Hammond, Jacob Martin, John Nicodemus, Theophilus Snyder, Frederick Hill, J. C. Everhart, Simon Snyder, Jacob Brenneman, Joseph B. Noble, William H. Aaron, John B. Fluck, Solomon Steele, John F. Lowry, Jacob Williams, William Barndollar, Clarence H. M'Allister, James Morley, James M'Millen, Frank Wilkeson, or any ten of them, be and the same are hereby appointed commissioners to open books, receive subscriptions and organize a company by the name, style and title of the Blair and Bedford railroad company, with all the powers and subject to all the provisions of an act, entitled "An Act regulating railroad companies," approved the nineteenth day of February one thousand eight hundred and forty nine, and the supplement thereto, except so far as herein otherwise provided.

SECTION 2. That the said Blair and Bedford railroad company may forthwith proceed to lay out and construct a railroad, from the terminus of any railroad now contemplated, or hereafter built, towards, into, or through Morrisons's Cove, Blair county, Pennsylvania, thence by the best and most feasible route toward or to Pattonsville, in Bedford county, thence by a route to be determined by the board of directors of said company, adjacent to or crossing the Huntingdon and Broad Top mountain railroad, to a poin on or near the southern border of this State, with power to build branch roads connecting the main road with the Bloomfield and other ore and mineral deposits along said route.

SECTION 3. That the capital stock of said company shall be five hundred thousand dllars, in shares of fifty dollars each, with power to increase its capital stock, from time to time, as may be necessary to build and extend said road and affect the objects of the company, that any company incorporated by the laws of this State shall have power to subscribe to the capital stock or to purchase the bonds of said company, and such subscriber shall be represented at the meetings and elections by such person or persons as may be designated by the governing power of such subscribing corporation.

SECTION 4. That said company shall have the right to issue bonds with or without the right of conver ion into the capital stock of said company, at par, to an amount not exceeding twenty thousand dollars per mile of said railroad, and to secure the said bond by a mortgage or mortgages of all and any of the property and franchises of the company, said bonds to bear such rate of interest not exceeding seven per centum, to be issued in such amounts, not less than fifty dollars, and to be disposed of on such terms and price as the board of directors may determine.

AMONG THE INDIANS.—Lieut Herndon tells us that no tribes of aborigines are found in the deepest forests of South America, from the Andes to the Atlantic coast that do not have and use Doctor Ayer's medicines and Lowell cottons. 'Tremont,' 'Suffolk,' 'Boott,' are seen stamped in large red and blue letters upon their garments, while Ayer's Pills and Cherry Pectoral are among the treasures of their habitations. Their native soil furnishes them all their food and most of their remedies, but they suffer from some afflictions which must have the interposition of higher skill.—Sentinel, Liberty, Va.

The question as to whether the projected railroad to Morrison's Cove shall start from Hollidaysburg or Newry, has not yet been settled. At the recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Penn'a Railroad, a committee was appointed to view the different routes and make report thereon. Considering the great rivalry between the two points, the people of the Cove can now rest assured that they will soon have railroad connection with the rest of mankind, let the commencement be from either point.—Altoona Tribune.

MIDDLETON'S

ONDERFUL PAIN CURE,

A sure remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Drawing Pains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiffness, of the Joints and all similar diseases.

This wonderful remedy is composed entirely of vegetable ingredients. There are no injurious substances used in its manufacture.

For assurance of its excellent properties, read the following certificates:

BEDFORD, May 8, 1869.

I take great pleasure in giving my testimony to the value of "Middleton's Wonderful Pain Cure." I have used a martyr to Rheumatism. For two months previous to Feb. 20th, last, I was suffering intensely with pain so severe, that during all that time I had not one night of comfortable sleep. I could not put my hands to my face, could not comb my own hair, nor feed myself; but after having the Pain Cure applied once, I found relief enough to give me comfortable sleep, and with its steady use I continued to get better, and now at the expiration of two weeks from its first application, I have the entire and ready free use of my hands, sleep well at night, and attend to business. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used, put together, and I cheerfully give this certificate of its value.

ELI M. FISHER.

BEDFORD, April 14, 1869.

Mr. W. W. Middleton,

This is to certify that I was taken with Rheumatism, in my right shoulder, on the evening of the 6th inst., so that I was unable to raise my hand to my face. I got some of your Pain Cure and applied it twice, and was entirely relieved. I would recommend to every one who suffers with Rheumatism to give it a trial and be cured.

Yours &c., A. F. MILLER.

BEDFORD, May 17, 1869.

Mr. Middleton,

Dear Sir:—I have used several bottles of your medicine in my family, and find it to be all you claim for it. Yours, truly,

JOHN HAFER.

BEDFORD, May 13, 1869.

This is to certify that I have used "Middleton's Pain Cure," for Rheumatism, and was very much benefited by it. JOHN HARRIS

BEDFORD, May 18, 1869.

This is to certify that I have used Middleton's Liniment, for the Rheumatism which I had in my right shoulder so bad that I could not get my hand to my head without great pain, and after a few applications was entirely relieved.

L. F. DART.

BEDFORD, May 1, 1869.

Mr. Middleton,

Dear Sir:—Mrs. Bowser was in much suffering for some four weeks with Rheumatism, and got some of your Pain Cure, and the first night I applied it it eased the pain; and after keeping on using it for two weeks, she was restored to health. I feel it to be my duty, as it is a pleasure, to write this recommendation for the benefit of others. JACOB BOWSER

BEDFORD, May 18, 1869.

Mr. W. W. Middleton:

I once procured a bottle of your Liniment for Rheumatism, and it gives me great pleasure in stating that after using it for two days, my rheumatism was completely relieved. My sister was suffering, at the same time, with Inflamatory Rheumatism in her right hand and wrist—after using it for several days she was relieved. I consider it the best remedy I ever heard of.

JOHN KEEFE.

BEDFORD, May 24, 1869.

This is to certify that I have used one bottle of Middleton's Liniment, for Rheumatism, and think it a good cure, and would recommend it to all persons that are afflicted with the above disease.

AUGUSTUS CARVER.

BEDFORD, May 26, 1869.

Mr. Middleton:

Sir—I procured one bottle of your medicine and used one-half of it for Rheumatism, which effected a permanent cure up to this time. I cannot hesitate in saying that it is the best remedy I ever used. A. B. CARN.

This excellent PAIN CURE is prepared only by W. W. MIDDLETON, Bedford, Pa., to whom all orders for the medicine should be addressed.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

FOR all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine

Perhaps no one Medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, LISTLESSNESS, LANGUOR and LOSS of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For LIVER COMPLAINT and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For DYSENTERY or DIARRHŒA, but one mild dose is generally required.

For RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK and LOINS, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For SUPPRESSION a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometime subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

THE ONLY RELIABLE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA IS IN THE KNOWN WORLD.

Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial are a positive and infallable cure for Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing.

They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate it, root and branch, forever.

They alleviate more agony and silent suffering than tongue can tell.

They are noted for curing the most desperate and hopeless cases, when every known means fail to afford relief.

No form of Dyspepsia or Indigestion can resist their penetrating power,

DR. WISHART'S
PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs. It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation. It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:

Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office parlors. Associated with him are three consulting physicians of acknowledged eminence, whose services are given to the public free of charge.

This opportunity is offered by no other institution in the country.

Letters from any part of the country, asking advice, will be promptly and gratuitously responded to. Where convenient, remittances should take the shape of

The Waters' Pianos are built of the very best and most thoroughly seasoned material.—Advocate and Journal.

Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodeons and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine.

MUSICAL DOINGS.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming adeertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianofortes now in our residence (where it has stood for many years,) of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet-toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur player. in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first-class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal. jan15.'69.

The ability of THE WORLD is beyond question—Raleigh (N. C.) Sentinel

We regard it the ablest Democratic newspaper in the nation—St. Joseph (Mo.) Herald.

The New York WORLD the ablest Democratic journal in the United States.—Cincinnati Times.

The leading Democratic journal in the country, and as able as it is eminent, the New York WORLD.—Boston Traveler.

The New York WORLD, the best edited paper on the continent, is wonderfully fertile in good things.—Raleigh Sentinel.

The New York WORLD, the ablest, most influential, and most widely circulated Democratic newspaper in the country.—Syracuse Journal.

THE NEW YORK WORLD.—The WORLD is now beyond question the best newspaper published in New York City.—Courier, East Saginaw, Mich. Sept., 25, 1869.

We always read The WORLD with hearty admiration of its superior ability, often with warm appreciation of its eloquently uttered sentiments.—Worcester Evening Gazette.

Those who want a Democratic paper will find THE WORLD, on the whole, the smartest, most entertaining, and complete newspaper on that side of the house.—Chronical, Penn Yan, N. Y.

THE WEEKLY WORLD,

a large quarto sheet, printed throughout in large type and published every Wednesday morning, has now the largest circulation of any weekly newspaper in the United States, with possibly, a single exception. Among its prominent features are:

1. Its very full and accurate market reports, embracing the Live Stock markets of New York, Albany, Cambridge, and Philadelphia; and New York Country Produce Market, and General Produce Markets of the country; and full reports of the New York Money Market. Each of the reports are complied with great care, and contain the latest quotations that can be obtained up to the time of putting the paper to press.
2. Its Agricultural Department, which contains each week articles on practical and scientific farming that are of great value to American farmers. A special feature of this department is a weekly summary of the condition of the Hop Markets at home and abroad.
3. A very full report of the proceedings of the Farmers' Club of the American Institute is printed in each issue of the Weekly World, the day after the meeting of the Club. By this arrangement the report appears in the Weekly World one week in advance of its publication in any other weekly paper.
4. A portion of the Weekly World is reserved for family reading matter, including original and selected stories, poems, waifs of humor, and extracts from books and periodicals.—Particular attention will be given to this department during the year 1870.
5. A special feature of the Weekly World is a carefully complied summary of the news of each week. It is made so complete that no one who reads it can fail of being well posted on all the important news of the day.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD,

published Tuesday and Friday, is a large quarto sheet, containing all the news published in the Daily World, with the exception of such local reports as may be of no interest to non-residents of New York City. Its market reports are as full as those of the Daily edition, and it contain, besides interesting literary matter, on Friday of each week a full report of the Farmers' Club.

THE DAILY WORLD

contains all the news of the day that can be obtained by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world, and the thorough discussions of all topics of interest.

THE WORLD ALMANAC FOR 1870.

"THE WORLD ALMANAC" for 1870 will contain a vast quantity of political information of use to every voter, and of such a character as can be obtained in no other publication. In it will be printed full official returns of every election held in 1869; the vote of New York State by election districts, and Connecticut by towns; the names and dates of each candidate for each branch of the New York Legislature; list of members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives; obituary record and list of important events during the past year.
